

COUNCIL HEARS PITMAN PRESENT CHALLENGES TO CONSTITUTION

Dean of Men Paul M. Pitman offered a challenge to the Associated Student Body constitution this morning to the Student Council last night. Those challenges were:

1. Is the Student Council broad enough to represent the Student Body? Are there enough members, and are the representatives from all inclusive groups?

2. Qualifications of student officers: Have they sufficient training and are they academically qualified? What about their previous service to the school?

3. Procedure of nominating candidates for elected offices: Should candidates declare a platform before running for office? Is a limited provision needed for campaign backers?

4. Student Council appointments: Before someone is appointed to an office, should he be asked about his willingness to serve? Should each appointee's qualifications be checked before he is appointed?

5. Is the Student Council completely satisfied with the present procedure of student elections? Couldn't the constitution have a provision to correct any present inadequacies?

6. A suggested board of Financial Control, with broad student representation. Its duties would be to consider deviations from the established budget.

7. Can the Associated Student Body membership clause in the constitution (Article I of the constitution and Article V, Section 4 of the by-laws) be enforced? If not, can it be modified?

8. Is the provision for a Publications advisory board in the constitution?

9. What about faculty members with ASB cards? Are these to be passed out to everyone, or only to those faculty members who contribute to student activities?

10. Doesn't it seem possible that an advisory board could be set up to help campus organizations? This board would not only help in formation, but also would guide the organizations.

No action was taken by the Council on any of Dean Pitman's challenges, but ASB President Emerson "Doc" Arends stated that they would be taken under consideration.

William N. Logan was appointed by the Council to replace Frank Hearne as Student Court chief justice. Hearne's resignation was accepted.

"My resignation is not due to unfavorable publicity, but my objective in the office of chief justice has been reached during my term of office," said Hearne's letter.

"Members of the Student Council have had to suffer because of my appointment, although they didn't know of my scholastic deficiencies at the time," it continued. "This is a public apology (Continued on page 4)

OFF THE WIRE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1. (UP)—The Senate today overwhelmingly approved a bill authorizing $597,000,000 in emergency relief for France, Italy, and Austria as an answer to the "bitter challenge" of political turmoil and hunger in Europe.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 1. (UP)—Two San Francisco night club dancers, who went down to the dock Friday to see some friends off on the steamship Matsonia, were en route to Honolulu today on an unscheduled voyage. The girls had been "unable" to get off the ship before it sailed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 1. (UP)—Travelling squad for the San Jose State college football team en route to Honolulu aboard the steamship Matsonia are taking light workouts on deck.

VET ENROLLMENT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1. (UP)—The Veterans Administration reported today that a record number of former GI's began or resumed school and job training in October.

Most of the increase resulted from the reopening of the schools and colleges for the fall semester, the Veterans Administration said.

During October, the Veterans Administration said, 897,000 veterans began or re-entered training under the GI Bill of Rights and the Vocational Rehabilitation Act.

250 CALENDARS SOLD YESTERDAY

More than 250 of San Jose State college's 1948 calendars were sold by the Spartan Knights yesterday on the first day of sales, announces Knight Dick Bartels, sales chairman.

Beginning today, and continuing throughout the week, sales will be handled by the classes on a competition basis, Bartels said. A bulletin board will be placed in the inner quad to keep track of the sales by each class. The freshman class will be in the booth today; sophomores, Wednesday; juniors, Thursday; and the seniors, Friday, Bartels said.

"Mail home calendars" may be sent postage free by the Knights, according to Bartels. Sales will run through December 15, he said.

CHAIRMAN URGES FROSH ATTENDANCE

Group meetings for the freshman class are held each Wednesday and Thursday, and all freshmen are urged to attend a group meeting, according to Darlene Dewey, publicity chairman for Group C.

Group A meets Wednesdays at 11:30 a.m. in room A1; Group B meets in the Morris Dailey auditorium, Thursday, 9:30 a.m.; and Group C meets Thursday, 1:30 p.m., in the Morris Dailey auditorium.

POLICE MAJORS VISIT PRISON

Over 20 police majors visited San Quentin prison recently with members of Lambda Alpha Epsilon, national police fraternity, according to Joe Rowan, police student.

Purpose of the trip was to study and improve relations between peace officers and criminals. Warden Clinton Duffy conducted a tour of the prison, permitting the guests to see the gas chamber, mess hall, officers' living quarters, cells, and workshops.

VET NEEDS BLOOD

Type "A" blood with an Rh negative factor is badly needed at the County hospital for a veteran critically ill with leukemia.

Transportation will be provided to and from the hospital for men or women who know they have the right type blood, or for those willing to go to the hospital to have their blood typed.

This is a rather rare type blood so as many potential donors as possible are asked to see Miss Bernice Van Gundy in the Dean of Men's office today about helping the vet.

COURT SUSPENDS LGA, PEGASUS

Lambda Gamma Alpha, Women's P. E. minors, and Pegasus literary group are suspended as campus organizations, according to a decision reached yesterday by the Student Court.

The justices instructed the clerk to write letters preventing the organizations from using the Spartan Daily, the datebook and other campus facilities, and to inform the two organizations that they are being cited for contempt of court in addition to previous charges.

Alpha Delta Sigma, the Advertising fraternity, WAA, the Christian Science organization, Sophomore Class council, Deseret club, Engineering fraternity, Spartan Knights and the Hawaiian club were fined $1 each, payment to be made to the Memorial Chapel fund, for failure to file constitutions and lists of members correctly by the November 21 deadline.

San Jose Players, Inter-fraternity Council, the Aqua Ski Club and the now defunct Geology club were held not guilty of a violation and Alpha Gamma, the art club was found to have met with the requirements.

WAA TO MEET IN S112 TODAY

The Women's Athletic association will hold a meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock in room S112 to discuss plans for sports playdays, according to Donna McCarty, publicity chairman.

Plans for the sports day at San Mateo, December 5, to include archery, badminton, bowling, and tennis meets, will be among the business discussed, Miss McCarty says.

All women students interested in sports are urged by Miss McCarty to attend this meeting. They must do so in order to participate in coming WAA sports events, she adds.

PERSONNEL TESTS

All students who haven't taken personnel tests must take them December 6 from 7:45 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the Morris Dailey auditorium, according to Mrs. Ruth Matlock of the Personnel office.

Students who fail to take the examination will be unable to register in the winter quarter, she added. Students should provide themselves with an electrographic pencil and a fountain pen.

UNPAID VETS FLOOD OFFICE WITH COUPONS

By BOB BODEN

Four hours after an "overdue subsistence" form appeared in the Spartan Daily yesterday, 102 veterans had filed these coupons in room 16, Miss Josephine Roose announced yesterday.

Miss Roose pointed out that the flood of coupons received by her office belies statements made early last week by VA to the effect that all veterans with complete records would be paid before the end of November.

Even with several reports of payment being heard hourly, the fact remains that roughly 40 per cent of over 3000 veterans at San Jose State college remain unpaid, she said.

In a survey conducted Tuesday and Wednesday, 170 out of 387 veterans have subsistence overdue. Of the total, 101 men had yet to receive a letter of award, which enables placement of a vet on the VA payroll.

The veterans' office here hopes for marked improvement in conditions when a proposed survey of classes is conducted tomorrow.

FILM IN L210

Students and faculty members are invited by the Library staff to attend a movie at 4 p.m. today in room 210 of the library. "The Valley of the Heart's Desire," a colored film of the Santa Clara valley, and an accompanying film on the prune industry are scheduled to be shown.

FLYERS' FUND AT HALF MARK

At least half of the $100 fined Bob Reid and Dilmas Rossberg for their leaflet-dropping flight over College of Pacific prior to the "big game" October 31, will be returned to the flyers.

This prediction was made by the student Flyer Fund committee, headed by George Naughten, as preparations were made to bring the two-week drive to a close Wednesday.

The drive will be climaxed by contribution of an estimated $40 to be derived from the sale of soft drinks at the Novice Boxing tourney scheduled to run in the Men's gym and Civic auditorium Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday.

Betty Louthan, Rally committee chairman, reports that one night's proceeds from soft drink concessions is destined for the flyers' fund. Contributions from students and campus organizations have neared the $10 mark, bringing the fund to an expected total of $50.

The drive to repay the $100, fined Reid and Rossberg by Justice of the Peace Barry McDermott of Stockton for allegedly violating flight regulations over COP, was prompted by Thrust and Parry letters to the Spartan Daily suggesting that the student body aid in the payment of the fines. The flyers pleaded "not guilty" to the charges involved.

SPARTAN DAILY XMAS TOY DRIVE TO OPEN MONDAY

By PAT O'BRIEN

The Spartan Daily's annual Christmas toy drive for hospitalized children will officially open Monday with the erection of a decorated Christmas tree in the Spartan Daily's new office. Early gifts will be accepted this week and placed under the tree.

New toys, old toys, toys in need of repair—all are acceptable and eagerly received at Christmas time by bedridden children in local hospitals. Appropriate toys for convalescing children are games, dolls, modeling sets and cuddly animal toys.

In addition to gathering toys for Santa Clara County hospitalized children, the drive this year should bring in enough toys so a portion of them may be sent to children overseas. Only unbreakable and unperishable gifts are suitable for overseas shipping.

Group donations as well as individual donations have always brought the piles of toys to gratifying heights under former Spartan Daily trees. Last year Eta Epsilon members turned in a large number of hand made dolls and other organizations followed by contributing to the drive.

Introducing the drive this year, the Student Y is sponsoring a dance, "Toyland Dream," to be held in the Men's gym Friday. One toy along with the $1.50 bid is the admission, reports Al Grass, chairman of the dance committee.

STATE LIBRARIANS WILL VISIT HERE

Miss Mabel Gillis, state librarian, and Mrs. Thelma Reed, field representative for state libraries, will visit the San Jose State college library this afternoon, says Head Librarian Joyce Backus.

Mr. Allan R. Laursen, librarian at the College of Pacific, will also tour the library to gather helpful suggestions for the library to be built on the Stockton campus.

Miss Gillis is scheduled to talk about state libraries to Miss Dora Smith's afternoon class. Both Miss Gillis and Mrs. Reed will be honored at a tea at 3:30 p.m. sponsored by the Bibliophiles, student library society.

The officials also will be guests of honor tonight when the college library staff entertains 46 librarians at a dinner at Lou's Village.

PRE-PHARMACY CLUB MEETS TODAY

All Pre-pharmacy students are invited to attend today's 2:30 meeting of the Pre-pharmacy club in room S112, states Mr. Charles Swanson, professor of Bacteriology and advisor to the club.

The main purpose of today's meeting, according to Mr. Swanson, will be to nominate and elect officers, and to talk about the future plans of the organization. A pharmacist may be on hand to answer any question which might arise. Mr. Swanson urges all Pre-pharmacy students to attend.

COLLEGE ORCHESTRA PRESENTS 'A SOUTHERN IOWA SUITE'

By ALICE JOY GOLDER

It sounds as good to the ear as ham and eggs look to the eye, and is just as American. That's about the only description one can give of the composition, "A Southern Iowa Suite," by Robert O. Barkey. It's to be played by the San Jose State college symphony orchestra at their December 9 concert.

The composer was born in Moulton, Iowa and graduated from high school there. He attended Drake university but interrupted his college career to go on the road as a violinist. Later he received both his A.B. and Master's degree from the State University of Iowa. In 1936 he became head of the large Music department of the public schools in Wilkinburg, Pennsylvania, a post which he still holds.

SECOND PRIZE

"The Southern Iowa Suite" won second prize in a competition for symphonic works by native composers sponsored by the National Symphony association of Washington, D. C. The first public performance of the entire composition was by the symphony orchestra of the University of Iowa in July, 1941 with Philip Clapp conducting.

In a preview rehearsal of the coming concert to be presented here at the college, Dr. Lyle Downey, Music department head and conductor, allowed the reporter to sit with the orchestra as it played through the composition.

The first movement is called the "Corn Shuckers Dance." Then comes "Sunday Evening in Bloomfield" and concluding is "County Fair."

FIRST MOVEMENT

Things start off with a bang as the orchestra gets into the first movement, "The Corn Shuckers Dance." A tiny box-like organ, right in with the orchestra, plays a few measures of the umph da umph da tune of barn dance legendary fame. Then we could hear the merry strains of "Arkansas Traveller" and "The Devil's Dream." Here the music is light and quite gay and it doesn't take a vivid imagination to see a "high school boy" attending his first barn dance and being struck dumb with amazement at the clumping and strutting of the heavy-footed farmhands.

HIGH SCHOOL LIFE

The second movement recalls the composer's life as a high school boy. The orchestra opens the movement with a friendly bell-ringing contest between the rival sextons of the Methodist and Presbyterian churches. Worship begins with an old time gospel hymn.

Then in comes some real fun. There is the sound of a model T Ford coming merrily down the street full of some slightly inebriated young "hot bloods" from Missouri. They disturb the services and after some bits of delightful musical confusion the services come to a close with a distinct musical AMEN.

The third movement, "County Fair," is a "kaleidoscope of events and impressions." It wasn't hard to pick out the musical approach of the volunteer fire department, the cackling of hens, the merry-go-round, and the trumpet announcement of the horse races.

The entire composition sings of an era of American life which has since passed away. It's light, lovable, delightful and succeeds in completely capturing the imagination.

VETS' BULL SESSION

By HAL SNOOK

Veterans deciding to study overseas may be able to qualify for benefits under the Fulbright Act and the GI Bill at the same time, according to a recent Veterans Administration ruling.

The ruling held that payment of education and training benefits under the GI Bill may be made to student-veterans regardless of any grants made them under the Fulbright Act, since the funds used to administer the Fulbright Act by the Department of State were not secured from United States Government appropriations.

FOREIGN STUDY

Veterans may study in a VA approved foreign educational institution under the same provisions that apply to study in a college or university in the United States.

The Fulbright Act (Public Law 584) provides for grants in aid to American students for study abroad. It authorizes the government to use foreign currencies and credits, acquired through the sale of surplus property abroad, to defray the costs of the program.

FINANCIAL AID

Financial aid may be provided for United States citizens studying in schools of foreign countries in which credit is acquired. This assistance may include payment with foreign currencies for transportation, tuition, maintenance and other expenses incidental to scholastic activity.

Transportation provided for in the Fulbright Act will be on boats (trains, etc.) operated by companies in the country in which the student plans to study.

The Fulbright Act also provides that veterans be given preference by the 10-man Board of Foreign Scholarships which awards the study grants.

Applications are not being received at this time, but persons desiring information on the program may obtain it from the Division of International Exchange of Persons, Department of State, Washington 25, D. C.

Thrust And Parry

SQUAWKING?

Thrust and Parry

Concerning the letter appearing in your columns last Monday:

It is indeed deplorable that the inefficiency of the VA field office in San Francisco is holding up the payment of subsistence checks to veterans in desperate financial need. However, all ex-servicemen are, or should be acquainted with inefficiency on the part of government workers. It should be fairly stated that, when in the employ (forced or otherwise) of the government, a good many of those persons now squawking about the VA's inefficiency wasted plenty of the government's time themselves. I know.

It might also be stated that although about 13,000,000 Americans made "sacrifices" which entitle them to benefits as a privileged group, they are not therefore required to regard themselves as entitled to government support to the extent that they can ignore the alternative to a federal check: namely, work.

And by work I do not mean something as physically easy, mentally debilitating, and socially neutral as baby-sitting or washing cars. I refer rather to that entity which is described in some of the departments hereabouts as a factor of production. This kind of work is hard and uninspiring stuff, but even a student or veteran can do it if he's broke enough and willing to try it.

Finally it might be mentioned that somebody is paying for those subsistence checks. If you happen to have 20% of the pay for your work deducted before you even get a look at the check, you would know this. If you don't know it, you can go to work and find out.

In summary, then, it would seem that it's rather selfish to

SINGING LaMAR FAMILY PERFORM IN LIGHT OPERA

By ALICE JOY GOLDER

When you hear the name LaMar it's time to start singing. For the LaMars, Dale and Don on campus, and the rest of the family, are a quintet of musical talent.

Dale, a sophomore, and Ron, a freshman, have both sung in the San Jose State college A Cappella choir. About the singing family, Dale said, "I guess it's just a natural in our family. Anyway, we just couldn't do without it."

GRAND OPERA

Victor LaMar, the father, is president of the recently formed San Jose Grand Opera association. All of the members of the LaMar family, with the exception of the youngest boy, LeVerne, are charter members of the association which was formed in 1945 by Henry E. Fischer, a local San Jose business man.

Representing the family, Dale related that his father, mother, and Don himself all participate in the chorus of the opera company. "We were all in the light opera productions here in 1940 too and had a great time with it," Dale stated.

When asked about brother LeVerne's non-participation in these affairs, Dale remarked, "Well, squawk about the inefficiency of those who hand out the "bread and circuses" when (a) the squawker probably was inefficient himself when working for the taxpayers, (b) somebody else who can't defend himself—again the taxpayer—has to foot the bill and (c) the squawker could go to work and get off the neck of society if he wasn't too lazy to spend some time looking for a job.

How about it, ASB 5719?

he's still a little young but he'll probably come into the organization soon now."

SINGING BROTHERS

The three singing brothers are well known at Campbell High school where Dale and Ron graduated in 1946 and '47 respectively. The older boys were active in a popular high school quartet that appeared in many school functions. LeVerne, a junior at Campbell now and editor of the school paper, will join his brothers at San Jose State in 1949.

"We really have a big time at home," smiled Dale. "Mom sings soprano and plays the piano, Ron sings tenor, LeVerne carries the melody, and Dad and I sing bass. We even squeeze a third bass out of the cat."

Neither of the two older LaMars is a music major although Don does minor in voice. Dale majors in pre-law and Ron in social science.

NOT PROFESSIONAL

"No, we don't plan on doing anything with our music professionally," remarked Dale in his very deep baritone voice. "It's sort of an inspirational thing in the family but that is about as far as it goes."

Dale and Ron are active members in student affairs. Dale is a member of the Student Council and Ron is on the Rally committee and is active in freshman affairs.

"We recently purchased a home recording machine and the records the family makes are a great source of entertainment," remarked Dale.

So when the next production of the opera association, "Martha," rolls around this spring and a soprano, baritone, and two basses are heard within the chorus, take note. The LaMars are singing again!

SPORTS

Tuesday, December 2, 1947

More than 70 young boxing aspirants will enter the ring this week in the 11th annual Novice Boxing tournament which was started by Coach Dee Portal in the thirties. The 70 entries are a far cry from the first tournament in which only five men ventured to the boxing wars.

It surpasses last year's record entry of 40 entries. The winner of the 1947 tournament award was Pete Fransulich who won a thriller from Bob Merritt in a well fought match.

GRIDDERS SAIL

Thirty-three gridders sailed Saturday to Hawaii after losing a 21-20 thriller to Fresno State. An unusual twist of the game happened in the first quarter when big Val Marchi, who has been a stalwart on defense throughout the season, fell on a Fresno fumble to tally a touchdown. It doesn't happen in every game that a lineman gets an opportunity to make a touchdown.

Utah, as we hinted a few weeks ago, rejected a bid to the Raisin Bowl. We regret it very much that the Big Seven conference champions failed to live up to the three year tie in with the CCAA in regards to participating in the Raisin Bowl. COP has a very fine team, and we hope that the Fresno authorities find a suitable opponent for the Tigers.

MATMEN

Wrestling gets underway in a big way this week, as the Spartan matmen participate in two meets on the same day. The varsity will meet the powerful San Quentin team Saturday morning, while the beginners will participate in the Northern California Novice tournament in the afternoon. The wrestlers have won, lost and tied one meet this season. They were beaten by California and won over San Francisco State. The Spartans were tied by the strong San Francisco Central YMCA.

The 1947 football season receives its coup d'etat Saturday in Los Angeles where the great teams of Notre Dame and Southern California collide in their annual classic. The Irish have three All Americans, while the Trojans have merely two. If Notre Dame's Terry Brennan's injury keeps him out of Saturday's tilt, the Trojans should win a tough one.

SPARTANS MEET BYU

Among the teams the Spartans play next year will be the Brigham Young Cougars on November 6 at San Jose. Other teams likely to be on the schedule are COP, Hardin Simmons, San Diego, Fresno, and Cal Poly. A PCC team also may be landed for next year. Our schedule is still incomplete for 1948.

The Basketball squad opens its 1947-48 season against Stanford tomorrow evening at Palo Alto. This marks the third straight year that our five have met the Indians. Both squads have won and lost two during the series. Other teams on the Spartan schedule include St. Mary's and Nebraska.

Cagers Open Season Tomorrow Night

CASABA TEAM FINISHES DRILLS FOR OPENER

By TOM ROWEN

The Spartan basketball team finishes drills today for its opening game tomorrow night against Stanford university at Palo Alto. Game time is 8 p.m. This will be the third game of the season for the Indians. The Cardinal and White hold victories over the Stanford Alumni and the Olympic Club.

Walt McPherson, San Jose State college basketball mentor, has selected a veteran lineup to start against Stanford. Swift Wunker and Ron Staley will be at forwards. Stu Inman will open at center. Bob Wuesthoff and Ralph Romero will start at guards.

Coach Everette Dean's Indian cage five is led by Steve Stevenson, lanky Redskin center. Stevenson was the leading scorer in the Stanford-Winged "O" contest.

Wunker is the only newcomer in the San Jose starting quintet. He is a transfer from University of Indiana. Inman and Wuesthoff are lettermen. Romero and Staley were with the squad last season but didn't make letters.

The Indians and Spartans split a two game series last year. Stanford won the first game, played at the Indian gym. San Jose won the second game, 49-41, in a thriller played at the Spartan gym.

Behind this starting lineup, McPherson plans to alternate a combination composed of Bob Hagen, center; John Kane and Jim Cruze, forwards; Hal Marks and Jack Wherry, guards.

Hagen is the only letterman in this group. Kane is a transfer from Oregon State college. Cruze was with the squad last season. Wherry is a transfer from Modesto J. C. and Marks is up from the junior varsity.

MATMEN MEET SAN QUENTIN

The Spartan wrestling squad is preparing to face two meets Saturday morning and evening, according to Coach Ted Mumby. The matmen will meet the San Quentin team Saturday morning, while the novices will participate in the Northern California Junior Wrestling meet in the evening at San Francisco.

Approximately 20 men have signed up for the novice tourney, and Coach Mumby has invited others who are interested in wrestling to do so. Last year, the Spartans took first place in the event. Wrestlers who won the Novice tourney last year were Carl Holmberg, Pat Felice, Tom Payne, and Ralph Payne.

If there is enough interest shown in the Novice tournament in San Francisco, there is a good possibility that there will be a similar one here sometime next quarter.

The final pre-season meet this quarter will be with the powerful El Toro Marines.

Tony Janovich, 200 pound Mountain View boy, hopes to play a lot of basketball this fall for the Spartans. Tony spent two year in the marines and has no definite ambition in life at the present.

PIFFERINI RECEIVES MOST VALUABLE PLAYER AWARD

Bob Pifferini, center on the Spartan football team, received the most valuable player award for this season, according to Irving Langendorf. The award was made before the Gold and White varsity left Friday night for the Hawaiian Islands. Pifferini was selected center on the Little All-Coast team. He probably will make the all-conference team which will be selected this month. "Rapid Robert" was selected on the second All-CCAA team last season.

The trophy was sponsored by the Langendorf Bakeries. A similar award will be made each year to the top Spartan football player. Team members vote for the most valuable player.

Pifferini who hails from Modesto J. C., made the All-CCAA baseball team last spring as a pitcher. He also received honorable mention as an outfielder.

He is a senior and is majoring in Physical Education. Bob was excused from spring practice last year because of an eye infection. There was some doubt as to whether he would answer the starting whistle when the Spartans opened against USF. He was there for the Don contest and played a terrific season of football.

Ron Staley from Turlock is a 143-pound speedster who is doing his best to win a forward berth on the basketball team. Ron attended Modesto JC before coming to San Jose.
